Advent Book:
“All I Really Want”
by Quinn Caldwell

The busyness of the Christmas season (Advent begins in just 3 weeks!) can be transformed into something much more rich and reflective when we have a daily guide to lead us. Rev. Caldwell's book is light and fun, but full of thoughtful ways to approach this holy time of wonder and blessing. The church has ordered some copies of the book, which can be purchased for $16.00 each.

Thursday, December 6 and 13,
6:30-7:30pm

Upstairs in the fellowship area with hot cider and homemade bread and butter.

Faith Formation is pleased to announce that a Children's Christmas Pageant will be performed on December 16th, 2018 during the 9:30am worship service. If you would like to help or participate in this fun celebration please let Pastor LeAnn know. Pastor LeAnn also welcomes any questions at marginsmatter@chelseafcc.com

The months of November and December are dedicated to our Foster Family. This year we have a mother and 3 children. The tree has been set up in the Fellowship Room with the tags for items requested on them. There are specific directions for wrapping and labeling these presents. There is an instruction sheet printed with this information on the table for you to take. The family will also receive a gift card to Country Market so they may choose items for a holiday meal. Thank you for your generosity.

Bible Study at the Pines

Bible study at the Pines finishes for the year on December 11th. Note that due to pastoral obligations Pastor Joe will not be having Bible study THIS TUESDAY December 4th. Bible study will return in the New Year.

The Residential College Singers, directed by our own Joseph Kemper is excited for their upcoming concert "With Open Arms," a benefit concert supporting Freedom House Detroit, a local refugee assistance program. Joseph invites all to join for what is sure to be an impactful evening. The concert is on

Thursday, December 6
at 7:30pm at the Residential College (701 University Ave.) in Keene Theater.

RC Singers is a non-auditioned and non-music major ensemble at the University of Michigan based in the Residential College.
